Contact: Jen Hill
jhill@rdwolff.com
347.330.2670
www.rdwolff.com

Press Release

Professor Richard Wolff Releases Online Courses on (1) the Economic Crisis, (2) Marxian Economics, and (3) Class Analysis: Theory and Practice

Visitors to rdwolff.com can freely view full taped courses on these three topics. These courses were taught by Professor Richard Wolff over the past two years at the New School's Graduate Program for International Affairs and the Brecht Forum in New York.

crisis expert professor wolff's recent work has concentrated on analyzing the causes and alternative solutions to the current global economic crisis

Richard Wolff is Professor of Economics Emeritus at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst and currently a Visiting Professor at the Graduate Program in International Affairs of the New School University in New York. He has a PhD in Economics from Yale University as well as degrees from Harvard University (history BA) and Stanford University (economics MA). He has authored or co-authored 10 books, over 50 scholarly articles and 75 popular articles.

His documentary film on that crisis, Capitalism Hits the Fan, has been regularly featured on LinkTv.com and can be previewed at www.capitalismhitsthefan.com. He also published a book of essays on the current crisis in 2010 entitled "Capitalism Hits the Fan: the Global Economic meltdown and What to Do About it".

Detailed information on and copies of his many writings, audios and videos of his media interviews, lectures, and classes, and his speaking schedule are all available at his website: www.rdwolff.com. Professor Wolff's public talks have been featured on ForaTV.com.

For Release 9am May 25, 2010