DRAFT PUBLICATION OUTLINE

Title: Information Technology and Computers and the Modern Economy
Sub-title: Benefits, Limitations and Challenges

Edited by: Cretson Dalmadge and Dale McHardy

E-mail: dalmadgec@wssu.edu
dmchardy@bahamasdevelopmentbank.com
dalemchardy@hotmail.com

Contributors:
10-15 distinguished authors/scientists in relevant areas.

Chapter Reviewers:
The 2 editors with possible assistance from the authors.

Publisher:
To be determined.

Quantity:
2,000 – 3,000 copies

Price:
To be arranged by the publisher.

Complementary Copies:
The editors will distribute one copy each to the authors.

Length:
250-300 pages

Chapters:
Between 10-15 Chapters (average length 5,000 words) covering a number of key areas.

Sections:
• Literature and Research
• Challenges (globalization, market and government)
• Social Issues; Political and Cultural Elements, Ethical Issues
• Impact on Economic Sectors (agriculture, manufacturing industry, financial services, tourism, etc.)
Main Objective:
This publication seeks to provide a thorough analysis of benefits, limitations, challenges and dilemmas related to the recent astonishing revolution of information technology and computers, and to critically examine the impact of this revolution on modern economies and societies. It is expected to be the most comprehensive publication in this area up to date.

Target Readership:
• Policy makers
• Government, politicians and diplomats
• Corporations and Institutions
• Executives
• Consultants
• Academics
• Graduate students
• Undergraduate students

Publication Time Table:
• Confirmation of the titles by the authors December 3, 2011
• Submission of chapters by the authors June 30, 2012
• Reviewing of chapters July 31, 2012
• Editing of chapters August 31, 2012
• Final editing of the book September 15, 2012
• Submission of camera-ready copy to the publisher October 31, 2012
• Publication target date December 15, 2012
• Book launch Mid-December 2012 or early January 2013

GUIDELINES FOR CONTRIBUTORS TO THE BOOK

The paper with an abstract to be submitted to the editors on or before 30 June 2012 to e-mail addresses: dalmadgec@wssu.edu, dmchardy@bahamasdevelopmentbank.com, dalemchardy@hotmail.com.

- Title, name, position, organization and a short biography of each author to be submitted along with the paper.
- The paper should cover recent research related to the main theme of the book. Joint papers written by scientists and executives are welcome.
- All material to be submitted on hard copy and via email (as attachment) convertible to Microsoft Word.
- All material to be double-spaced, typed pages.
- Authors must include signed permission granting the use of material owned by organizations if such material is included in the papers.

- If any clarifications are required all questions should be directed to the editors by e-mail.

- Any references to other publications must be in Harvard style, which is shown within the text as the first author’s name followed by a comma and year of publication all in round brackets – Example (Taylor, 2001). At the end of the paper a reference list in alphabetical order must be given as follows:

  1. For books: Surname, initials, (year), title, publisher, place of publication

  2. For journals: Surname, initials, (year) “title”, Journal, Volume, Number, pages

- Topic to be around 10 – 15 words.

- The length of the paper to be between 5,000 – 5,500 words (25 – 30 double-spaced, typed pages).